

Do you have a virtualization topic of...

Tony Dunn 261 posts since

Sep 10, 2007

Lead an "Ask the Expert" Session online for the VMworld.com community and have the opportunity to reach out to thousands of visitors on your virtualization topic, solution or products. This "free" session consists of a flash video presentation, related materials for download and a shared Q&A discussion led by you, the expert.

Expert Sessions are run as an actual event with a start and end date, during which the community can ask questions of the expert and post related comments. Once the event ends, the session and discussion thread is archived for the community to view, but without active and continued discussions.

Submit a proposal to lead an "Ask the Expert" Session

These "free" Expert Sessions are intended to spread thought leadership and awareness of virtualization technologies to the community rather than promote, market or sell to any specific audience. If you wish to create a specific vendor message or sales/marketing effort, please consider creating a Virtual Exhibitor Booth on VMworld.com.

Tags: expert, experts, session, video, q&a