Hey everyone - my company just spent to coin to send to VMworld. Can't wait to get out there, learn and have fun! Anyone else from Maryland going to be there?

Hi Mancil,

I am from MD, and my company also forked out the beans for me to go as well! This should be a great time!

Yeah Man - I've got all my laps picked out. I think I'm going to spend most of the day Monday just walking around checking out vendors!

wow, I didn't know I will run into people have a similar interest in VMware from Maryland. I'm from UMCP and my boss is glad to send me this conference. I told my boss that whatever I learn does not stay in Las Vegas.

It's good to see another person from education environment. I'm from JHU APL in Columbia, MD and three other colleagues will go there with me. It's my 2nd time at VMWorld.

Nice to know this many people are going to the conference around the region. I am not in MD, but in DC and work for GWU. This will be my second year for VM Conference. 😊

It is good to see a lot of MD folks going, especially those from academia. This will be my first year, and I am representing Towson University.
