What is your website,

Do you have a community?

What are the prices?

Hmm. I only ask because I happen to need storage for my own ESX servers and haven't got a clue what I should be using and who sells entry level storage units for my Sun 4100 ESX boxes.

Thanks

I am wondering.....does Coraid sell into the Fortune 500/1000 space?

Some of our customers are Fortune 500/1000 companies. We sell to every customer, from SMB to Enterprise customers, but our main market is for customers that are looking for a low cost and high performance SAN solution which will coexist with existing SAN products that they are already using. This need goes beyond the size of the company.
