The party tonight was awesome!! I had so much fun rising around the track, riding the go carts, and going for the wild ride in the shelby's. Thank you very much VMware 😊

Yes the party ROCKED!! The Shelby road course was my favorite, and the free beer was a nice touch also 😁 .

was a decent party.. crowded and long lines as expected with that many people.

Only major complaint: I waited 45 minutes to ride the mustangs only to have them close down the line at 11pm with only 5-10 people in front of me. If you're going to close it down early, you have to tell people waiting in line more than 5 minutes before you close.

Cut of the line at some point, let the rest ride.. don't just let people wait in line, get to the front, and then tell them no.

I agree with you. I also was in that line for the Shelby's and was bummed out for waiting for a ride that was suppose to go til midnight according to all schedules. I could of least got out of line and shoved more food in my face. I liked the taquitos 😊

Our bus got pulled over on the way by some @#%! cop. After about 20 - 30 minutes of waiting, we finally got to the Speedway. Only to wait another 10+ minutes to get off the bus. According to the bus driver, the cop wanted to verify all his paperwork was in order.

End result- we completely missed Danica Patrick. Grrrrr....

I missed the line, but saw here through the glass. She was very friendly looking and smiled a lot. A good representative for NASCAR. Did anyone get a shot of her? Someone post a shot of her on the photo wall!

I didn't even know that Danica was at the party! (And she drives Indy car, not Nascar).

I agree it was a great party - lots of fun. We posted our pictures here - <http://www.delltechcenter.com/album/46895/VMWorld+2008> - sans Danica.
