Hello all and sorry if this is the wrong place to post this but I couldn't find another forum closer to the subject. Anyway I'm going to be attending VMworld 2009 in SF but this is my first VMworld so I like to get suggestions on hotel and travel from people who have previously attend VMworld in San Francisco. Does VMworld registration offer any kind of hotel registration package like many of the other conferences? If not how about some hotel recommendations. Thanks in advance.

When VMworld 2009 registration goes live, there will be many hotel options to choose from. The hotels will be listed on www.vmworld2009.com. You will be able to search hotel options by location and price.

the W hotel, right across the street is really nice.... great rooms, and literally a 2 minute walk away.
