Ive seen this asked, but no offical answer yet, or if there was an answer, ive overlooked it,

Do VCP's recieve a discount for the San Fran 09 Conference? I know the VMworld Europe VCP's did.....

Thanks.

As a new VCP (Passed the exam yesterday), I hope so! For the amount of money spent on the required training and exam, it seems reasonable. We should at least get the same discount that VMWorld Alumni get.

I have sent an email to the VMworld conference team about this almost 2 months ago.

Never got an answer ...

Yep, I emailed them as well and surprise surprise... no reply.... - I dont get what the big deal is, Its either a "YES" or a "NO".... I would at least appreciate some kind of response from VMware.

Well I guess it's a no. Just went to the registration page and I checked the VCP box next to certifications but at the end I had to pay the full early bird price

Bummer would have been nice to get something in return for the expensive training course.
