Does this device apart from VMware Virtual Infrastructure, supports other VM Infrastructures?

No it is a VMware only device. Since it is a "zero" client.

Very good performance with them in my experience and easy to manage and intergrate with VMware View.

The zero client Pano Device in fact is part of Pano Logic's all-in-one hardware and software zero client desktop virtualization solution. The zero client device works with the Pano System, which to date requires the VMware hypervisor.
